Executive Summary

Many small business owners think of their employees as family, and they believe in taking care of their employees in order to retain a happy and loyal workforce and to attract top talent. They also know it's important for their employees to be able to balance their work and family responsibilities. New scientific polling shows the majority of New Mexico small businesses offer benefits like paid leave, financial assistance for education and providing family-friendly policies for their employees.

A scientific opinion poll conducted for Small Business Majority by Greenberg Quinlan Rosner Research found many New Mexico small employers offer family-friendly benefits to their employees to accommodate their responsibilities at home, including more than 7 in 10 (72%) small businesses that allow their employees to take time off from work to attend their children's school activities, such as parent-teacher conferences. Nearly 3 in 10 (29%) provide flexible work schedules or opportunities to work from home to accommodate family responsibilities, and 1 in 4 small employers (25%) offer childcare benefits, such as subsidized childcare or onsite childcare facilities. Nearly 1 in 4 (23%) provide information about and ways to connect with public benefits, such as the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) or free and reduced-priced school meals for their children

Additionally, nearly 6 in 10 New Mexico small businesses (59%) offer paid vacation to employees, and nearly 1 in 4 small businesses (24%) offer health insurance benefits, either through an employer-sponsored plan or by paying a portion of employees' own health insurance. Nearly half (49%) of New Mexico small business owners offer on-the-job training or financial assistance for education and training outside the job, such as tuition reimbursement. Small business owners offer additional financial incentives to employees, including retirement benefits (23%) and financial counseling or access to financial institutions, products and services (26%).

Lastly, poll respondents reflected a Republican plurality: 48% identified as Republican or independent-lean Republican, 32% as Democrat or independent-lean Democrat and 13% as pure independent.

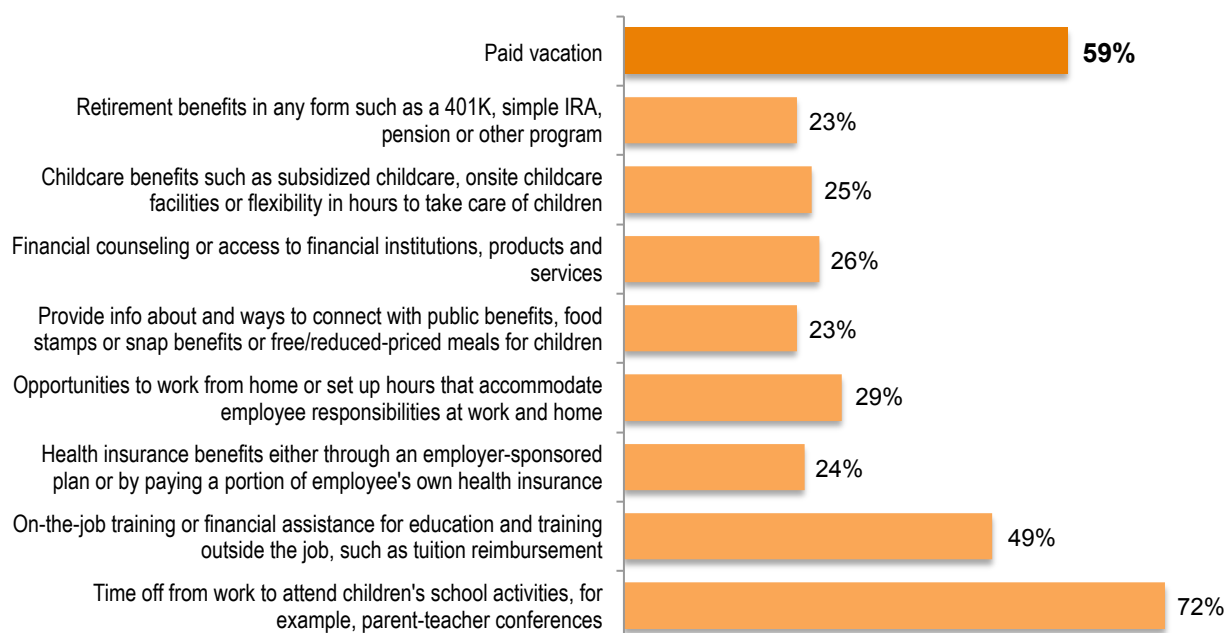

Methodology

This poll reflects a telephone survey of 500 small business owners from around the country with an oversample of 103 small businesses in New Mexico. The poll was conducted by Greenberg Quinlan Rosner Research for Small Business Majority with a margin of error of +/-9.66% for the New Mexico oversample. The survey was conducted from January 15 through February 3, 2015.
